TUMKUR DISTRICT.

Notification dated 27th December 1923.

1. It is hereby notified for public information that advantage will be taken of the Jatra of the Sri Subramanyaswami at Nagalmadike in the Pavagada Taluk to be held on and after the 12th January 1924, to hold a special show of the cattle of the Pavagada Taluk, at the same place in a separate enclosure set apart for the purpose.

2. This taluk cattle show is intended to serve as a special incentive to the cattle owners in the taluk to import and preserve cows of good breed and thus indirectly help cattle breading and improvement in the breed of cattle.

3. The competition will be restricted to the cattle of the Pavagada Taluk.

4. Cows and she-buffaloes, cow and buffalo calves may be exhibited in the show.

5. Cattle pertaining to each village will be grouped together separately in a separate enclosure.

6. Every animal exhibited in the show will be given marks by the Judges specially appointed for the purpose according to certain recognised rules approved by the Live-stock Expert and the Veterinary Superintendent.

7. The village that obtains the highest number of marks for the cattle exhibited by it will be awarded the first prize consisting of a good breeding bull costing about Rs. 200 to 250 which will become the communal property of the village that wins the prize and the Village Improvement Committee or the Union or Panchayet concerned as the case may be will be entitled to levy a fee of one rupee or more as decided upon by such local body for every cow brought from outside the village for covering purposes the cows in the village may be covered free of charge.

8. Such Committee or Panchayet will bind itself to have all scrub bulls in the village castrated within a period of three months from the award of the breeding bull.

9. A fee of one rupee will be levied from every village (on all the cattle admitted to the show from the village which may be paid out of the village Common Fund) or by contribution from among the villagers or competitors.

10. Application for admission to the show will have to be made to the President, Taluk Board, Pavagada, enumerating the number of cows, and she-buffaloes and the number of cow calves and buffalo calves, intended to be brought from each village for the show, together with the names of the owners so that among other things arrangements may be made for providing sufficient space for the cattle of the respective villages and also to arrange to provide fodder if need be for the cattle thus brought to the show.

11. All animals answering the above description are entitled to compete in the show unless they are suffering from any disease likely to infect the other cattle in the show.

12. Should sufficient funds be forthcoming a second prize consisting of a bull-calf will be awarded to the village that stands second in rank and also individual prizes for owners of animals brought to the show, consisting of medals, money prizes, improved plough, cultivators, ornaments for cattle, etc.
